GAME NOTES

- TODAY'S MATCHUP: Rockford and Grand Rapids meet for the first time in 2018-19. The IceHogs posted the second-most wins against Grand Rapids in a single season in franchise history last year with a 6-3-1-0 mark against the club. That record trailed only a 7-0-0-1 clip in the series during the 2009-10 season. However, the IceHogs notched just one victory at Van Andel arena, going 1-3-1-0 in five road meetings.
- BEAST MASTER: Anthony Louis enters today's contest with a nine-game point streak against the Griffins. Louis tallied at least one point in each of Rockford's nine games against Grand Rapids last season, including two multi-point efforts, and led the team in overall scoring in the series with 11 total points (2g, 9a).
- OPENING ACT: Rockford has won the series-opening game against the Griffins in each of the last nine seasons dating to the 2009-10 campaign. Overall, the IceHogs have won 10 of 11 series openers all-time against Grand Rapids since joining the AHL in 2007-08, with the lone exception a 6-5 shootout loss during the 2008-09 season.
- ROAD WARRIORS: The IceHogs have won a season-high five straight road games and have points in a season-high six straight road games since Oct. 19 (5-0-1-0 in that span). The road win streak is just one shy of matching the team's longest such streak from 2017-18.
- WAY RAD!: Darren Raddysh has posted three points in his last two games to claim a share of the team lead in points thus far this season. His 12 points (4g, 8a) are tied with Dylan Sikura for first among Hogs skaters and rank sixth among all AHL defensemen.
